

Albert Lewis Hill Jr.

April 13, 1970 - November 23, 2018

On Friday, November 23, 2018 our beloved Albert "AJay" Hill, Jr. transitioned to eternal rest. He was born April 13, 1970 to the late Albert L. Hill, Sr. and Rachel Sykes. AJay was no stranger to anyone. He had a passion for the New York Giants, his family, friends and social gatherings that brought people together. His loving, gentle spirit drew people not only closer to him but closer to one another. If there was an event in the city of Portsmouth, it is likely that he would be there sharing his wisdom, smile, and stories of his childhood.

He was a lover of sports and was a talented basketball and football player at Churchland High School where he graduated in 1990. He continued to play sports in the community throughout his adult life including participation in the Portsmouth Negro League. AJay coached baseball to a group of young men who looked up to him as the mentor and father figure that many of them lacked. He was a member of a social club, Ptown's Finest with his closest friends where they would reach out to the community and hold social events with the purpose of bringing the community together for unity. AJay was a Walmart employee for over ten years, where he unofficially earned the title from his Walmart shopping friends as the Milk Man Greeter because he smiled, greeted and embraced all his friends from near and far who shopped in Walmart.

This gentle giant and peacemaker leaves to cherish his memories his wife,

Anitra Marshall-Hill, mother Rachel Sykes (Reginald), daughter JaKira Roberts, son Dekion Hill, two sisters, Lena Hill-Evans (Morris) and Toleeda Hill-Riddick (Derek), two brothers, Byrhane "Mont" Yasrayahu and Tireak Hill, a cousin-brother Rodriquez Hill, and a very special lady friend, Cherie Mabry, nephews, nieces and host of cousins and friends.

There was a wise old bird who lived in an oak

The more he saw the less he spoke

The less he spoke, the more he heard

Why can't we take lessons from this wise old bird - author unknown, AJay's life motto

“ Prayers for the Hill & Riddick family. We will miss Jay "The Gentle Giant" with the charming and warm smile. One of the coolest people we have ever met. Please get you well deserved rest. We enjoyed every moment we shared. Thank you for inviting my family into your family and treating us just like family. We love you Toleeda, you will always be my sister in the V.A. and you know we are only a phone call away.
