“ Four years later I stumbled over your obituary my friend. We had lost touch with each other thru the years, but never did I ever forget you. We were the very best of friends since I was 4 years old. That's been many, many years ago. You were my sister by choice. Tears roll down my cheeks because I know I'll never get to talk to you or see you ever again on this earth. I sincerely hope you had a good life. I'm at peace with your passing because I know you're wearing your wings, and have joined the ones that passed before you. Fly high my friend and sit there waiting for the rest of us. I love you Annie. I miss you.
