“ Oh WOW, I had no idea about the homegoing of my high school former JV and Varsity football teammate. To say I'm stunned is a SIGNIFICANT understatement. May the Lord welcome him in the presence of His Eternal Glory. Clin-poo is the person, along with or other WWHS JV and Varsity football teammate, Richard "Rawhide" Hammel, who gave me the alias, "The Great Kabuki". He was a facetious person, always joking and keeping us laughing. My thoughts and prayers extend to the Gainey family. He served this country in the Army. Wow., we NEVER know when our homegoing date will arrive. His brothers, Clifton and Chris are also former WWHS Presidents football players. The last time I saw Clin-poo, on a visit home to P-Town, Va, he was his usual joking self, making me laugh.

“ Condolences to the family and friends of Mr. Clinton Gainey, may you find comfort from God's word during this difficult time.... knowing that God really does care brings much comfort ( 1 Peter 5:7) READS :
"while you throw all your anxiety on him, because he cares for you.."
this is an invitation from God, inviting you to let him help you cope with the loss of your dear loved one, as well as other anxieties you may be facing.....

“ Sending an abundance of love to all of you in this season of loss. The death of a loved one is indeed a difficult time, whether they're tender in age or seasoned in life. Add to it the element of surprise and it could rattle your faith. Because of the relationship that God afforded me with your mother (SIP), I know that all of you have been equipped to trust God in all things - good, bad or indifferent. I implore you at this time to lean towards Him who doeth all things wells. May the comforting influences of His Holy Spirit be with you for as long as you need it and may you find peace in knowing your brother has reunited with Mother Gainey and both are watching carefully over those who remain.

With sincerest condolences. Be blessed.....be a blessing. God loves you and so do I!

“ May God continue to provide you with the strength, peace and comfort to make it through this time of transition. You are a beautiful and strong family. Although I did not personally know Clinton, I am a very good friend of Juliet from Norfolk State University. I'm sure she may have bragged on him at some point of time, especially after seeing some of those most recent pictures them on facebook together. One could probably detect that he was probably one of the "Tough-Protectors" of your flock, based on his body structure...Wow! Nevertheless, my words to you, as a family, is to continue to trust in the Lord. He knows what you need and how to render it at the right time. God bless you ALWAYS!!!!
