One his many jobs! We just moved into our fixer upper (first home). There was a huge pine tree growing into our roof shingles! Dalbert "The Roofer" came by after a 12 hour shift in the blazing sun to remove limbs and repair broken shingles. It was dark outside when he finished! There was nothing he wouldn't do for his family!

I don't know where to start so maybe I'll just start from the beginning. I met Dalbert in the 4th grade at Queen of Angels elementary school in Newark Nj. My mom passed away when I was in the 3rd grade and I was sort of a loner. Dalbert befriended me and took me under his wing. He brought me and my sister Jean to his home @54 Boyd Street the projects to meet his family. We became inseparable from that moment on. Sharing fun times playing baseball, basketball football and whatever else we could do to have fun. I was a shy kid growing up and a few people thought I was weak and would try and harras me. The one's I couldn't handle my big brother quite easily took care of. As time moved on we were inseparable. The family welcomed Jean and myself and we became one with all. Mrs Anthony I always called her that even though she was like a mother to me gave me comfort and love as if I was one of her own. I will always be grateful for if not for this family I am quite sure I would have been lost in the mix of hood life in Newark NJ. The years moved forward and we began to move our separate ways but the bond was never broken Dalbert will always be my brother. The memories are so numerous and I can't begin to share them all because I truly can go on forever but I will say this I never met anyone who was more committed to family and providing an example of what being a MAN is all about. He did what needed to be done unselfishly for his loved ones no matter what it took. I am truly blessed to have known him and shared a portion of his life in this world. He is truly one of life's SUPERSTARS and a shining example of what being REAL is all about. I will never forget him and I will love him forever. Looking forward to the day when we will bond once again. May God protect him and may my beloved brother rest in peace. Henry Singleton

Time is so precious-time with our families, our children ,our parents, our friends as well as with our brothers and sisters in Christ. How do you invest your time? Where do you invest it? You know it's really more valuable than the money we invest. Once it's gone it can't be reclaimed. So as you begin each day ask God that you will be able to "know the time", to see it for what it is and to use it for it's greatest good. Time passes quickly and like the shadows of early evening it's not long before it is absorbed into the gathering darkness of night.

Dalbert and I were neighbors in Peachtree. We both were single parents and he was the first single dad I had met. We both became friends and confidante we shared a lot of our struggles as single parents we always had each other's back. If he didn't have it, I did and if I didn't have it he did. I never knew a man who would do anything to keep his family together and happy. It was hard but he never gave up, he loved his children and his mother unconditionally. The level of respect he showed to everyone was just who he was. I'll always remember our times we laughed, cried and struggled together for years but it paid off because his children are doing soo well. I am soo proud of the adults they became. Rest well my friend! Jermaine Reggie and Bianca I'm praying for peace understanding and comfort during these hard time.

Growing up with Dalbert was something else! Always trying to boss me around and reminding me he was the big cousin! Was determined to get me to like baseball! That was his thing not mine! Always had the funniest things to say! I remember when we use to sing the Temptations we each had a part! When my mother came and moved me back to Ct he said remember what I told you! I did remember that's why I got into so much trouble! Ha! ha! We were talking about those times just 2-3 weeks ago! He said we had to stay in touch and not just on Facebook before we hung up I told him what his Neice Toni did sending me info about getting Italian Hot Dogs we laughed about that and laughed about how many doubles we would order if we could! The only one I know who loved them as much as I did! Ha! Ha! RIP Dalbert My next hot dog ill be in remembrance of you!

“ Not knowing where I was going we went to Warwick Park as I was spending the summer with my dad. I was so confused but saw Superman when he came over. He had just finished playing baseball and we (he, Corey and I) were going to hang in Trenton. Was one of the coolest things I remembered growing up.
