

Darnell L. Brown

June 6, 1954 - March 17, 2014

On this day we are celebrating the home going of a loving father and grandfather, a long standing husband, chastising brother, funny uncle and fast friend. Darnell Levon Brown was born on June 6, 1954 to Ophelia Cherry and John Jacob Brown in West Norfolk County, in Portsmouth Virginia. After attending public school and then vocational school he landed careers with the city of Portsmouth for a time and eventually a position with Portsmouth General Hospital for many years before becoming who we all know as 'Hustle Man". He enjoyed drive in movies when they were still around, driving fast cars or so I am told, and his favorite television shows were westerns and anything on the discovery channel and loved all sweets. In the interim of years Darnell became a husband who struggled with life and its responsibilities, a father who took care of three girls as best he could on limited knowledge and resources. After a debilitating accident that left him partially disabled he continued to live as best he could by working odd jobs or "hustles" to provide for himself and family members until his final days. Darnell is preceded by his mother Ophelia, father John and step father Robert Harris, Sister Vivian and Brothers John and Leon. Left here to cherish memories is his wife Geraldine Brown his daughters Danielle, Brenita, and Andrea and grandchildren Keshona, Issis, Jamir and Zalayah, His surviving Sister Robin and brother in law Dupree and Brothers, Michael, Dennis and Linwood and sister in law Hattie. Memories also abound for nieces, Robbin, Michelle, Francine, Monique and nephews Michael, Willie,

Dawayne, Dante and their children. We will not forget longtime friends thru thick and thin Pee-Wee, Kirt and Bud who never forgot him. After a long life lived and a hard road traveled by a man that was fun of life, ambition, passion and humor, there is no more pain and suffering, his earthly journey is over and he has gone home to be with the lord. God Rest His Soul.
