“ To My First Born

The day I gave birth taught me something great. The love between a mother and a son. You were such a precious gift from god. My world changed when I gave birth to my baby boy Dejuan aka Dj bka The Box. Momma was so proud of the milestones in your life. You graduated from high school and went to join the navy. And during that journey you found love and became a great family man. You also continue to strive for greatness and completed college courses and finished. Momma wanted you to know that I held my head high being a proud mother of a great man. You made me so happy not allowing peep pressure to affect your choice to leave your hometown Detroit and better yourself. Dejuan you will always be my first love and first born. Love Mom Rest In Peace my first love
