Dee you were my friend,sister and most of all family although we were not related by blood. My heart is very heavy knowing you are gone. We lived in different states we visited often and spoke every day for hours about everything. I miss you so much. I miss your smile and the fact no matter how you were feeling I could always make you laugh. We loved to shop, which included everything from cloths to household goods. We did not agree on everything,who does,but one thing I know is that you loved me and I loved you.God knew you were tired and took you home to rest. You will be in my thoughts and my heart forever.

*Honey,
I didn't get to say good bye... You slipped away hours after my brother left us. We talked everyday, sometimes 3 times a day. When I got the call that you were taken to the hospital, I prayed you'd be ok and return home, but this time you didn't. You will be sorely missed my big sister and friend. You fought the fight for your health, you said you were tired, may God rest your soul and give you peace. Your infectious smile and laughter will be missed, your giving spirit and sharing with others was You. Your love for your family was number one in your life. I will always cherish our friendship. Rest now in peace my sister- -*

“ *Delores:
When I got the call you had passed my heart stopped for a moment; God had spoken your name and there was no going back.
I will miss your spirit my friend, but you now join Ruben, Daisy, DeeDee, Big Mama, Helen Ann and others for another family reunion.
I promise to never forget the times (good & bad) we shared together, we had a sisterhood you and I and I will miss you so very much. I will never walk into a Home Depot or Lowe's without think of you.
I will remember your courage, fearlessness, loving kindness and your faith in yourself and others. You push us and sometimes we pushed back, but you never gave up.
In Exodus 33:14 The Lord says "...My Presence will go with them wherever they go, and I will give them rest.."
Rest now in the Lord's care
Your friend, your sister

Tamyra you made Honey so proud as you excelled in school. She knew her condition better than anyone and she didn't think she would see you graduate. What you must do is to remember all that she instilled in you to make you a strong young lady academically, socially, and to have confidence in yourself. You make her proud... Minister Beard

“ Aunt Delores ,

Gone but never forgotten, her spirit and character will be carried on by her children and grandchildren those who knew her best. There's no better time, like this present time for her children to join forces and continue to carry her torch. Aunt Delores represented truth, style, glamor, courage, dignity. She was in a class all by herself. Aunt Dee might be gone but she will never ever be forgotten!!

Respectfully,

Terri
