“ I have been knowing Dwight all my life. We lived across the street from each other. He was the one who introduce me to video games and used to play them together and his parents or mine would order us pizza when were visiting each other. He always was willing to help my family and I. It could be my dad doing yardwork, my mom needing her flowers and garden watered durin a 100 degree dayor myself needing a ride to school. I will miss Dwight very much and our late night gaming sessions. He was like a big brother to me. I love you man. -Don Williams Jr

“ To the Parents of Dwight, Jr. ,

This is being shared in the hope it will bring you comfort. It was shared with me during the lost of one of my love ones and it hope it will do the same for you.

Mona Lisa & Family

Just to share-Dwight, Jr was kind enough to help me take decorations from my attic for Christmas for two years after Church. He even remembered to come by and help put them back in the attic without me reminding him. The second year he would not even accept payment- just slightly laughed and told me "No I would not want my Mom to need help and not get it." I just thought of him and then got the sad news. I wanted to share this memory of a kind young man.

"I have not gone"

You think I've gone, that I am no longer with you, and life has lost its will,

But look around, I am right there, living with you still

I watch your tears, I feel your pain – I see the things you do

I weep as well, each time you cry, my soul, it lives with you

It gives such joy to hear you laugh, and do the things you do

And when you smile o'er by gone days, I smile right with you too

For we're still one, just you and me, one mind, one soul, one being

Walking forward into life, though only you are seen

And in the stillness of the night, when the pain it really starts

Stretch out a little with your mind and draw me to your heart

For I am always right in there, always by your side

For you have been, all my life's days, my joy, my love my pride.
