“ Lee and I were very good friends for over 20 years. We had a common denominator in that we were both military veterans and we both love to help people. Lee was an extremely kind and giving person to all who knew him. He always gave all of himself to assist anyone in need of help or even knowledge.

There are many more things that I could say about him, but I will keep this brief. My comrade, my friend, my brother at arms... It is time to rest! I miss you dearly and I want you to know that you will forever be in my heart and mind, but now it is time for you to rest and we will take over the watch...

“ In loving memory of Mr. Everna Lee Taylor (AKA Mr. E), a remarkable individual whose legacy will live on in the hearts of all who were fortunate enough to know him.

Mr. E. was the kind of person who embodied generosity and selflessness. He would give you his last, always willing to go out of his way to offer mentorship, wisdom, and life lessons. His heart was as big as his knowledge, and anyone who had the privilege of listening to his stories gained more than just advice—they gained a friend.

I first met Mr. E. in 2013 through World Financial Group (WFG), where he had a way of making you feel welcome and valued. Whether you were new to the group or a seasoned member, Mr. E. always took the time to listen and share his insights, offering a mix of wisdom and encouragement that many of us came to rely on.

As a retired veteran, Mr. E. took great pride in his service to the Navy, where he earned the rank of Senior Chief. His experiences in the military were not just stories, but lessons in discipline, leadership, and resilience. He spoke with passion about his career and always encouraged others to honor and respect those who serve.

Beyond his military career, Mr. E. was a true connoisseur of the finer things in life. With a deep appreciation for scents, he created and curated a variety of soaps, colognes, perfumes, and incense. His keen sense of smell and artistry in scent-making were just one of the many talents he shared with those around him.

As an artist, Mr. E.'s creativity knew no bounds. His artwork graced galleries across America, a testament to his skill and his unique vision. His pieces captured emotions, stories, and the essence of the world through his eyes.

But above all, as a friend, brother, and uncle, Mr. E. was a presence that will be deeply missed. He was a mentor, a confidant, and a guiding light in the lives of so many. While his physical presence may no longer be with us, his wisdom, kindness, and legacy will continue to inspire and guide us.

Rest in peace, Mr. E. You may be gone, but you will never be forgotten. Your impact on the world and the lives of those who knew you will endure forever.

“ I have known Mr. Taylor for only just a little over two years, but it seems as if I have known him forever. His kindness, wicked sense of humor, his exceptional artistic talent and his ability to make you feel you were the most important person he had ever met endeared him to me.

I am very proud that I was allowed to be a part of showcasing his wonderful galleries to the public; to support his efforts in supporting so many other people with his generosity by providing a venue to display, not only his own beautiful artwork but, the art of others.

With heaviness of heart, I share your grief but rejoice that Mr. Taylor is at peace.

“ Lee was a very special person. He was kind and giving of himself to others. Over his lifetime was very involved in the art world and helped many people, in many ways.

He leaves his art legacy, the Art Central Gallery in (Phoebus) Hampton, Virginia for many people to enjoy his numerous art pieces he did over a lifetime, and other art pieces of local artists. Lee's legacy is not only his art, but to all the people he helped and spent time with while he was here with us. We would be remiss not to mention that Lee also had an excellent sense of humor, and a great love for life. Lee is resting in everlasting peace in the arms of our Lord. God bless him.

Sincerely, Joe, Susan, and Christine Skelly
