“ My friends weep not for Ms. Geneva her long and joyful journey ended only to began anew in a glorious place. She lived to see her seeds flower and their seeds flower and their seeds flower in the garden of life. She saw the gray come your crowns. Memories of laughter and times of joy carry forward in life, a testament to her place in your hearts. Her work now done she sits on high, welcomed by proclamations "well done" , " now rest child. For her father has her now and all things are at peace in his place. Your lost is heavens gain as a new angel has been called home. All things through by his will, by his grace. “ To the Family- When we sustain a heartbreaking loss, and when grief overwhelms our soul,the Savior who gave Himself on the cross reminds us that He's in control. Our greatest comfort in sorrow is know that God will continue to be your strong tower as your love one make their transition to heavenly quietness.

“ To minister Bert Johnson and family there are no words that can fill the emptiness in your heart but perhaps it will help to know that others care, you are in our prayers.
