“ I was driving through Beaumont today and was reminded that Greg hailed from there; as I hadn't talked with him in several years, I thought I would check to see if he was still in the Chesapeake area. I was very saddened to find that he had passed last summer. Greg and I were stationed together at NSGA Adak from 1983-1985 and worked together every day. He was one of our best sailors, and was a superb basketball player on our multi-championship command teams during that period. Greg and I reconnected several years later when we were both associated with what was FIWC Norfolk, and later became the NIOC headquarters. I could always count on Greg to be respectful, but to tell me exactly what he thought, tactfully. He was a sailor's sailor and a very good and faithful man. The world is worse for his loss. My condolences to friends and family. CDR Swede Larson, USN Ret.

“ I remember Guss fondly from our youth, growing up on Booker St. Whether playing football, baseball or hide & seek he was always a ready participant. I understand his friendly playful nature never escaped him, and to that he added a maturity and thoughtfulness that was welcomed and cherish by everyone. God is good, and His mercies endure. May Gregory's family receive God's peace and grace abundantly in their time of need, until they see him again!

“Gregory (Gus) as we called him was the model for Ray Bans in the late 70's that are the only glasses he was ever seen wearing. You would always see him parked out front of our high school in Albert's Camaro. He didn't talk much, just gave a head nod gesture when he spoke. You really never saw his eyes unless you had classes with him and the glasses had to be removed.

The most I've ever heard Gus talk was at our 30th year class reunion. He was soft spoken, had a kind smile, well mannered, dressed classy and a perfect gentleman.

While hanging out with classmates during the reunion we realized that he was witty, his laugh made you laugh, we witnessed him laugh until he cried when we were having discussion about our childhood days and growing up with older female siblings (Debra) that was in charge of the household when our parents worked and the things we had to endure.

My brother (Fabian) who was very completive, shared with me that when playing neighborhood football he hated to play the 5th street boys because of the Michael and Gus. The Provo brothers played ball bare footed and if the ball was handed off to either of them NO ONE could catch them, they were too fast. But, they were well liked by everyone.

You will be greatly missed but forever in our hearts.

Toodle-oo,
