“ I still can't believe I'm writing this. The first time we met was at your wedding in which I was a groomsman. You were goofy and I always had a good time tucking it up with you. I knew you didn't have much family and even though you were only 10 years older than me I could tell how excited you were to call me "nephew". They say god works in mysterious ways so I can only believe that he arranged for us to come down and visit just days before you got sick. I'm happy that my last memories are going to be how happy yet scared you were when we went on the coasters at Busch Gardens. I'll see you on the other side Hal.

“ The first time we met was when I was a groomsman In your wedding. I knew you didn't have much family and could tell how excited you were form your own. It is mind blowing that I am writing this right now. We were just riding roller coasters and had a great time doing so. Then literally a couple of days after we leave I received the call that you had become Ill which was completely and utterly shocking. I guess the lord works in mysterious ways and he just wanted us to all be together one last time. Until we meet again Hal.
