

Hattie A. Redd

July 16, 1943 - January 24, 2019

Hattie A Redd quietly passed away on January 24, 2019. Born on July 16, 1943, and reared in Norfolk, VA, Hattie was the daughter of the late Wade Bernard Adams, Sr. and Ollie Mae Adams. Left to cherish her memories are her husband of 55 years Alfred H. Redd, Jr.; daughter, Wanda R. Spraggs of Richmond, VA; son, Alfred H. Redd, III of Hampton, VA; a very special niece, Sherry B. Frisbee of Hyattsville, MD; and many other nephews, nieces, cousins, and three sisters in-law.

Hattie attended Crestwood High School in Chesapeake, Hampton University and received her Bachelor of Science degree from ODU. She worked as a Portsmouth public school teacher for over 30 years.

Hattie's dedication to her student was extended beyond the classroom through her sponsorship of extracurricular activities such as academic coach for student athletes, co-chair of the national honor society and as a modern dance coach.

As a member of Community Presbyterian Church, she was extremely active in the life of the church, serving as an Elder, Friendship Team member, Church Secretary, Inspirational Choir member, and member of the Presbyterian Women.

“ Mrs. Redd was my biology teacher at Churchland HS. She took me under her wing and allowed me to be her lab assistant. She was instrumental in me obtaining a full academic scholarship and yes, it was because of her that I majored in biology. I called her a few years later when I was about to start teaching, asking for advice. She told me not to let them see you smile until December. :) Never had an educator touched me, pushed me, helped me more. I'm retiring next month with 29 years in education. Thank you Mrs. Redd. I will never forget you.

“ To the Redd Family, I extend my belated heartfelt condolences on the passing of Mrs. Redd. I had the privilege and honor to work with Mrs. Redd when we were teachers at Churchland High School. She was an exemplary teacher, a staunch disciplinarian, and a genuinely kind and caring person. I shall treasure the memories I have of our times together. May the good memories her family and friends have of her sustain them in the difficult times. She was without a doubt one of the classiest people I've ever met. With much love and admiration.

“ *God called and you slipped away home. We were not ready but you had to go.
I so enjoyed our new found relationship, our brief talks, emails and cards always made me feel better. You were kind, soft spoken and gracious to me. God knew I needed you while I'm in the valley. You will truly be missed.
