“ Rest in Paradise Jay 🥺💔 I remember you teaching me lots of things I needed to know. You were there for when I gave birth to my daughter and you drove to the house to wake Matt up because I was already at the hospital, You always came over to the house and checked on us and the boys and always had fun with them before taking our food lol you even taught me and Matt how to drive when you took us driving in the back roads of port orchard, WA. Now you're in a better place, say hi to my dad for me 🥺🙏💔 and I'll be praying for God's healing hands upon your family.

“ Not many times do you meet someone and they become like family. We meet in Misawa Japan and made fun of the tour guide and instantly became friends. Even when we left and moved away we always stayed in touch. You came out to visit me and we watched the SuperBowl with my family and I visited you. Life happens so many ways we don't plan for and we miss you. You weren't just a friend you were my brother. RIP
