ABOUT JOE MACK

Joe, better known as Tootie was outspoken, kind, and easy-going person, and he touched the lives of many people during his lifetime. His Smile was contagious as he loved to laugh and joke with his family and friends. He was a wonderful father to his children, nieces and nephews. They looked up to him because he wanted them to see that there is a better life than those on the streets. He worked at several construction companies for over 30-+ years. His favorite word was "Today," and his favorite artist was the O'Jays. He attended church at an early age where he song in the choir and an usher. He Even enlisted in the Marines. So, today we are celebrating his farewell home-going.

Earth hath no sorrow that heaven cannot heal Like a bird singing in the rain let grateful memories survive in the time of sorrow for death is no more than a turning of us over from time to eternity
