“ Kathy was a major softie. When my parents would go places in the daytime, they would leave Kathy in charge. We would be total asses and gave her a bad time. She would write down how misbehaved we were. Then shortly before our parents were due home. We would whine and be all sweet to Kathy. We would beg her not to tell. We would swear we would be good the next time. She would soften up and never told on us. She just had the sweetest heart. I will post more as I think of them.

“ We were friends since 1964! Even as a kid, she was destined to be CNA ... she'd run over to our house most mornings to watch my mom give herself insulin and learn! I miss Kathy every day.
