Aunt Jean,

I know you feel like God is beat up on you these days...But He is still in control. We can't begin to know the compounded pain you are feeling right now. To lose a sister is to lose a sibling, but also a friend, a confident, even a sparring partner for a good fight! We have each other's backs and God created them for a special purpose. However, we all an appointment to keep, one we can't reschedule or cancel. God is gracious though, and gives us wonderful memories, love, and the special bond that he creates between sisters. Hold your memories, the love, the spirit of Kat near to your heart her essence will always be with you. We love you and continue to ask God to give you His peace and comfort.

“ I was sadden to hear about the passing of your mom. She was a beautiful and stylish lady. I remember the house on Warfield Drive. She would say you are welcome eat all you want but the dinning room was off limits. So we hung out in the den. She will truly be missed and I will keep the famil in prayer.
