“ my papa. i love and miss you dearly. accepting your absense seems impossible, how is this real? we just spent fathers day at tucker park and 4th of july together with the family. we were just discussing going skydiving for my 18th, no one else would go with me. you passed away 9 days before, now you'll never see me turn 18 and i cant handle the reality that the last time i saw you was the last time. im happy you were happy. im so proud of the man you were and ill tell anyone who wants to listen who you are and what made kirk kirk. id retell stories 1000 times for you if it meant someone else would know you. i got your truck. getting in your truck and actually driving it is another story. you taught me to drive stick in that truck. now everytime i go to my parents, turning down the road makes me think of you and the time i stalled your truck like 20 times at the end of gills. i remember when you accidentally stole gas and then felt guilty for it for weeks even though it wasnt your fault the cashier didnt know how to do her job. i remember when we used to sit outside and watch the stars. a love for the sky and whats beyond it always bonded us. i wish i reached out more, regret only hits when its too late to fix. i dont remember what my last conversation with you was. i know i said i love you before i left, i know that you knew that, but i wish i held you tighter. i wish i cherished your presense on a deeper level, because now i feel like there is so much left for us to talk about and so much we never got to say. i hope somehow you feel the love from where you are. i hope you're drinking your jack and pepsi with your brother and dad right now. i hope everything is as beautiful and rewarding as we always talked abt. you said i was your moon and stars.. i never realized how deeply that would hit me until you left. the moon and the stars hold an entire different meaning for me now. now they connect me to you. you were my bestfriend and i love you papa. never ever forgotten, i promise 🙏❤️

“ Although we were no longer together we stayed very close as great friends he was a great friend and stepdad to my children a great Papa to my grandchildren and our great-grandchild he loved all of them as if they were his own he treated them the same he'd take the shirt off your back and give it to them no matter what they needed, he would go without just to make sure they never did, you will be forever missed and forever loved and there will always be a heavy heart in our world with a hole that's missing you in it we know you're fine and we know you're out of pain and you're in a better place you're up there having a good time all our friends our families watching over us you'll never leave us in our hearts and our minds and our memories we miss you Kirk rest in peace my friend

“ Uncle Kirk was my world and my everything! He was always there for me and he loved me from day one! He knew what made me laugh and smile but he also knew what made me sad. He saw me at my best and he saw me at my worst, but through it all he was the only one who was there for me. Being able to know him changed my life! He made me happy in ways I can't explain! Being his niece is something I will forever be proud of! No matter what happened, he was the one I knew I could go to! I can't believe he is gone, but I know he is still with me in spirit! I have had so many signs that he is still here with me! There is so much I could say but I'd be here all day or more trying to type it all. I loved and I always will love my Uncle Kirk with everything I have to love!
