“ Aunt Margie was a hero to me. She was a strong woman who taught me from a very young age what was needed to grow up in this world. She did so with her famous "shoe"! She'd crack me with that thing like a cowboy slings a six shooter... and her laugh was infectious. She made you love life, while respecting the things that made life better. I watched the love she shared with her family, her sisters, brothers, and all of their offspring. I will miss her presence, but KNOW that she's made such an important impact on me, and practically everyone that I know... she will never be forgotten. I will cherish the memories and celebrate her life. I will always love my aunt, and a part of me cries for the loss. But God is, and has always been in control... and He determined... it's time to come home!

“ To the family,

My deepest condolences during your time of loss. Just last month I said I was going to contact Margaret and plan to see her since it had been about three years since I last saw her. This is just a lesson to me to not put off making time to see those who made significant impressions in my life. Margaret was truly a friend to me during our time as coworkers on the base. My prayers for comfort and peace are for the family.

I just want to say that I think of Aunt Margie as often as I have always. It's tough to realize the finality of her being gone. I miss her and praise God for allowing her love in my life!
