

Milton Daniel Wilson

January 20, 1953 - March 24, 2024

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

KT

“ I only knew Dan in passing, noticing him almost daily on his bike, always packed so tidy. Asking around, I found out he was homeless and then in speaking with him, I realized he was also deaf. I considered him one of my Salem Food Lion friends, because that's where we'd usually chat and where he'd frequently set up for the night. He made sure to always speak and share a great big smile. He loved his can soup but I'd say his fav food was definitely his thanksgiving turkey leg! He never asked for help, and was so truly thankful for everything. He will be missed, and thought of each time I see a yellow safety vest or carve that extra turkey leg! In Gods hands now he'll forever be warm and comfortable, but there are many more folks like Dan, still struggling in life; the homeless, the disabled, those of any struggle really. Remember that we are all here to walk each other home, so truly love your neighbor as you love yourself, treat the homeless and the helpless just as you would want to be treated if in that same circumstance. Help those in need however you can, share a smile if you have nothing else to give. Rest peacefully Dan, you deserved more acceptance and comfort than this world gave ❤️

Kari Tibbits - March 28, 2024 at 01:17 AM