

Morris Clark

January 9, 1938 - November 21, 2021

Morris Clark, 83, peacefully transitioned on November 21, 2021, in Chesapeake, Virginia. He was born in January 1938 to the late Theodore and Geneva Clark of Norfolk and was predeceased by siblings Schaefer, Dennis, Shirley Jean (Wilson), Theodore, Jr., and Sylvia (Leach).

Morris attended elementary and junior high schools in Norfolk's Campostella neighborhood and was a proud member of the 1956 graduating class at Booker T. Washington High School. He then served in the United States Air Force for four years. Afterwards, Morris began working for the United States Postal Service at post offices throughout Norfolk, in a career as a postal clerk that spanned four decades. As was his entire family, he was also a longstanding member of St. Thomas AMEZ church in Norfolk. Morris was a passionate golfer and ardent sports fan who loved watching baseball and football.

Though they weren't quite "childhood sweethearts," Morris and Millicent Lowery were childhood neighbors and friends when they were growing up in Campostella, and they began their courtship in the 1950s. Their 60-year marriage produced three children: Dr. Keith Clark of Fairfax; and Kelly Clark Brown and Jennifer Clark Rodgers (Dr. Daryle Rodgers), both of Chesapeake. In addition to his beloved spouse and children, he leaves behind nephew Morris Clark, his namesake who was like a son in his faithful and unwavering dedication to his uncle. In addition, Morris was a doting and tenderhearted grandfather of six grandchildren: Brittany Brown, Taylor Brown, Lauren Brown, Kristen Brown, Jeremiah Rodgers, Jamison Rodgers, Imani Rodgers, and Isaiah Rodgers; and seven great grandchildren: Zyon, Naizer, Hassan, Uryiah, Na'Omiy, Zavier, and Kalem. Finally, Morris is survived by a host of nieces, nephews, and cousins whom he cherished.

“ My grandfather was the absolute best and meant so much to me !! It still does not feel real that he is not here with us anymore but it gives my family and me some peace that he is in fact in a much better place in Heaven. The saying is, the streets are paved in gold and of course, it is absolutely beautiful, and when we as human beings die, we do not want to come back here if we could after we experience what Heaven is like. I have so many memories with my grandfather and I will forever be grateful for them and hold them near and dear to my heart. A couple of the memories is when he taught me how to cut up the meat using a knife and a fork, he was so precise when teaching me how to do it, I loved it haha. Another memory is he and I listening to some of his favorite songs and he would tell me about his favorite artists and sometimes we would listen to the songs for almost three hours straight, those were the days and also my mom, he and I would love to talk about tennis and of course Venus and Serena. A few of the favorite songs we would listen to were "That's What Friends Are For" by Dionne Warwick, Stevie Wonder, Elton John, and Gladys Knight, he loved Gladys Knight so much. Another song was Kenny Rogers "The Gambler" and another one was Kool and the Gang "Celebration" !! I gained so much experience helping my mother and grandmother for the past six years take care of him and do the things for him that needed to be done, God has a plan and a purpose for everything. Our family was also a huge help in helping to take of him as well, we all did our best to make sure he was fine. My grandfather was so blessed to live a long life and he has now gained his wings, I am pretty sure he did not have a whole lot of regrets and he was such a passionate and loyal worker. We love you Grandpa and we will see you again one day, we love you forever and always. Love Kristen, your granddaughter “ Heartfelt condolences to Millicent and the Clark family. Morris was a likable and easygoing fellow. We were in the Air Force at the same time and encountered one another at Tech School in Cheyenne, Wyoming in 1956. Rest in peace, Morris.
