“ A poem to my sister. I will truly miss you. My sister my angel

In my childhood God saw a need.

So he wrapped you with love, kindness and, understanding and delivered you to me.

You were my personal angel in my time of need.

Just to know you were there to lean on meant the entire world to me.

We've been through trials and storms. We still made it through somehow, But heaven's missing it's angel you must return home now.

I will always cherish the memories of all we've been through ,And forever will I give God praise for sending me a SISTER like you.##imported-begin##Phyllis Seward##imported-end##

“ There has never been a kinder, gentler person as Regina, who made each person's life she came in contact with better for having known and worked with her, both as a co-worker and as a client. Regina was known for her beautiful smile and welcoming words for every person to cross her path. She wanted each mother and child to feel as comfortable as she would have wanted her own children and grandchildren to feel coming into our office. Although someone will take her job, no one will ever take her place in our hearts.###imported-begin##Kathleen Walters###imported-end##
