

Richard John Steinkamp, Jr.

September 9, 1941 - April 23, 2026

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

CH

“ Richard had a great sense of humor and never missed an opportunity to share something funny with others. He was quite the talker and knew a lot about a lot of things. His library at home was filled with books on physics and engineering. All scientific books. I was looking for a murder mystery to read. He told me he doesn't have fiction in his library. He said he only read to learn about a subject. And looking at his library, all his books were a mystery to me. Richard I will miss you. I love you very much.

---

Catherine Hoepker - May 05 at 08:28 AM

JC

“ Sharon, Karla and Karen, My heart is breaking at the passing of my brother Richard. Sharon, I know that your heart is breaking. We were so thankful that we were able to celebrate with you both at your 60th wedding anniversary celebration in February. I am thankful for all of the wonderful memories of Richard from our childhood and thru the years You all are in my thoughts and prayers. Love, Judy

---

Judy Corrigan - April 29 at 10:51 AM

JS

Richard was my hero. He had many obstacles to overcome and he did. He loved his beautiful wife, three lovely daughters and his grandchildren. He loved fast cars, especially Corvettes. He had a very kind and big heart. We his family love him and will miss him always. And Bro if you are listening save me a place up there. I might need a little help getting in. Love you forever. JoAnne.

---

Joan Anderson, Sister - April 29 at 02:01 PM