“ Loyal love, not only to Jehovah the God we serve, but to family as well as to friends. That is how I will always remember Sis. Harrell. As a young teenager, there were two faithful spiritual sisters there for my family in our time of need in the passing of my grandmother Emma Clanton. Sarah was one of them, not only a comfort to my family, but also a close friend as well. That was something that impressed me then and still has some 30 years later. Something I will never forget. Always a joy to be around. She would always speak no matter what or when. Always encouraging too. And getting to know her and her family over the years has been very special to me. Really got to know her being in the same Book Study #5, sharing treats after which everybody enjoyed. Until we see her again, she will truly be missed. My thoughts and prayer are with the Harrell family. But always remember Jehovah does not forget his loyal ones or the love they showed to others. Yes, loyal love is how I remember Sarah Harrell. And I can only hope to be remembered the same way. May Jehovah the God of comfort, comfort you all in this loss of such a special person. LYNN CLANTON
