*Such a very beautiful woman. Who came into our families life as a friend and then became family. More of a AUNTIE, she was there for mewhen my back was against the wall. I was always able to talk to her about anything without her judging, now she may laugh depending on how crazy I told the story to . But at the end, with that very beautiful smile of hers, she always gave me the real. Amazing and beautiful, you are missed.
Rest Queen. Rest.*

I met Silvia when we lived on Monroe, her son Larry became my Xtra son. She was such a sweet soul. I always wondered how the family was over the years. So sorry to hear of her passing. The west family 757 -679-5619 would love to hear from larry

“ *To a dedicated woman of God 🙏
Thanks for loving me 😘💕💕 and taking me up under ur wings when I was just a girl, with child.*

We protected each other and watched each other's backs, I was so proud that I was ur lil sister.

Give my momma a kiss and know that when it's my turn I'll be there waiting for you to also receive me.

Love u sis

“ I can still remember the day we met like it was yesterday. Living in base housing Naval Weapon Station Yorktown Va 1991. We started talking at a military family day event and was 2 peas in a pot after that. Thats why i found it odd last year before going on military orders overseas that she didn't fill up to me visiting her. Sylvia i wish i had known you were sick. I remember we were each others support when we would go through difficult times when we were military spouses. Although i hate that you are no longer with us. Im glad you arent suffering any more. Until we meet again.

“ To the Family of the Late Sylvia Miller:

Rejoice! God has granted one of His most precious pearls with eternal rest!

Sylvia gifted my daughter with a Disney princess night light before she was born. Each night I turn it on, I think of her. I'll never forget her kind spirit!

My condolences to you on the passing of your mother. I pray that the Miller Family may find peace and strength during this difficult time.

May the most precious memories comfort your hearts in the days ahead.

With Deepest Sympathy, Shirrell N. Smith, Daughter of Janice T. Smith
