“ I knew Mr. Brown had passed a few years ago however I only now saw his obituary. I worked with Jack for 20 years at GFM. He was one of the nicest and kindest people that I ever worked with. I left GFM 20 years ago so I haven't really kept up with former coworkers. I will never forget how proud he was of that yellow Cadillac. Half of our conversations were about cars and the other half were about Barbara. We also shared a past of working in NNSY. I could talk to Jack about anything. I always respected him and he had a big kind heart. This world could use a few million more William Jack Browns. Proud to have been a friend and coworker.

“ Please accept my condolences for the loss of your loved one. Death is truly an enemy as the Bible states at 1Corinthian 15:26. When we lose a loved one to death, you will be confronted with a number of overwhelming emotions. These words of deepest sympathy are sent with the hope that, as time goes by, cherished memories will help bring you inner peace and make your loved one still seem very close to you. It may be painful at first, but, it will get easier. Most importantly pray to Jehovah. The Bible says: “Throw your burden upon Jehovah himself, and he himself will sustain you.” (Psalm 55:22) Pour out your heart to Jehovah. He will listen and give you the strength needed to cope with this time of sadness.
