“ Do you remember the first day we met. Hahaha. You were giving chase to someone down the street while I stood in my yard watching. You were barefooted with a white tee shirt and had on blue jean shorts. The person that you were chasing got away and on your way back to your house, you saw me and said "Hi I'm Yolanda, your new neighbor. Lol. High spirited, full of life and never a dull moment. Gonna miss you girl but only for a little while for we will laugh together again.

“ I moved from Portsmouth, VA four years ago and lost contact with you but you were always in my heart and my prayers. Now you've gone on before me and that's ok because I know that you're up there getting everything ready for when we see each other again and oh what a glorious reunion that will be. Love you Yo.

“ In times like these we pause to completely depend upon the loving embrace of The Heavenly Father. He has received Yolanda in His Embrace never again to experience earthly agony. This a time that the greatest remembrance of Yolanda is to assure our individual salvation and readiness to answer the Call of The Master.

I am praying for the family and all who loved Yolanda
